

Here is how I made the slide rule: The location of each mark is the log of that marks value away from the starting point (zero).

Adding logs of numbers is the same as multiplying them!

